This game has a very similar feel to the old Driver games on the Playstation. It's also a bit like GTA. The 80s aesthetic is awesome. The music is really enjoyable to listen to. It's polished. There is a nice gradual progression system where you unlock new skills and buy new cars and parts. Most importantly, the driving mechanics are really satisfying: the cars feel fluid & slidey, but with just enough assists that you can purposefully navigate the maps without constantly crashing.. Buggy as the worst of them. Keys dont work, xbox controller is upside down and left is right. Unplayable! Steam wont refund cause game launch window counts as play time! Laughable! I will sue for fraud. Absolute garbage, no quality control.. land on an island, and keep the little bastards alive, thats about it, all the virtual villagers are the same, fun games but kinda slow going. Cannot get from windows live. Windows Market is no longer allowing download of dlc.. Very well designed in everything from the gameplay to the assets. Great possibility for high-level play (for score/time-attack type stuff) but also fun at the initial lower levels of play.. 4/10!

Simple little game. It doesn't take long to get all the achievements.

it's a fast paced side scrolling pixel game. i wouldn't say it is a survival game really cuz you only need to build one fire per biome to cook meat to eat. and it is a poor platformer because 90% of the time the platform to the golden eggs are literally too tall and there is no way to progress. I guess since it is a new game i don't expect too much but eh idk not really worth $9 at the current state. I bought this game for $1.00 thanks to a coupon I got while crafting badges, and although I've only played 10 minutes total as of the moment I'm writing this review, I already don't regret buying this game!. One of Steam's most underrated games. A true hidden gem that got lost in amongst all the over-saturated garbage. Tragically overlooked. A game that should be on everyone's local party playlist!

50% Micro Machines

40% BlazeRush

10% Mario Kart

100% FUN!. I love trials games but the progression is painful in this game. I've put 16 hours into the game and I still only have 2 of the extreme maps unlocked. In previous trials games I would have all maps unlocked in 2-4 hours. Having replay value is not a bad thing but it comes at the cost of your more experience players getting frustrated that they are not able to play the more difficult tracks which is what a lot of seasoned players come for. I just want to play the extreme maps, please, im so frustrated at the stupid contracts that are holding me back from playing them. I would love to see the level cap, at least for simply unlocking all the maps go down. And from reading the other reviews that seems to be what the community wants as well. Having contracts is not a bad idea at all, it adds a lot of replay value to the game but it should not be a wall that prevents progression and instead a feature that keeps players coming back after beating all the maps. Please Redlynx, listen to the community and lower the level cap for the extreme maps.

Edit: Also I forgot to mention that the map is extremely crowded, it's a cool idea but should not be the main way to view the tracks in my opinion. Having the tracks listed by difficulty then having the map as a side feature where players can actually see where the track is set would make the ui feel more friendly.. This game kept me entertained FOR HOURS. Nice short game finished the first try in a few hours. SO WORTH IT though if you look buying, selling and making money. Use your brain and fingers!. This is a puzzler that is actually soothing. You may get frustrated if you're shooting for 100% completion on everything, but if you're just playing to complete the trees, you'll never get even slightly perturbed.

It's beautifully well-executed.
